Generated €191,230 over a concentrated 6-month window, demonstrating rapid adoption despite no massive marketing budget.

Our test-and-learn approach calibrated pricing, optimized channel mix, and secured supply chain for scale.

Validated Strengths

The asset-light model proved highly efficient (22.7% EBITDA and 12.6% Net Profit), validating value creation without heavy infrastructure.

West Africa Hub (RETBAA SASU) served as growth engine (€118K revenue, €17.9K profit), confirming regional appetite; France anchored premium legitimacy via pop-ups.

Strategic Imperatives

Build larger recurring B2B pipelines, deepen SKU range, accelerate cash conversion on receivables, and formalize data stack/CRM for clienteling.

Broaden France base while consolidating West Africa via Abidjan flagship, preparing Phase 2 expansion.

Part II — Cultural Luxury — The Next Frontier

How Heritage-Driven Brands Are Reshaping Global Luxury

RETBAA

Global Trend & Majors

Major Maisons are heavily investing in cultural luxury: Dior (Marrakech Cruise '20, +30% engagement), Chanel (Dakar Métiers d'Art '22), Louis Vuitton (African artisan collabs), and Hermès (Lagos/Casablanca expansion).

This validates a massive market shift. The MEA luxury TAM is estimated at $21.85B by 2026 (10.6% CAGR), operating within a projected €1.5T global luxury ecosystem by 2030 (Bain-Altagamma).

Retbaa's Positioning

Unlike adaptations, RETBAA is a pure player—cultural luxury is our core DNA. Affluent Africans and the global diaspora increasingly seek Maisons that authentically speak to their heritage.

We hold a crucial first-mover advantage to structure this segment before majors saturate it, driven by our unique intention-based segmentation (Gather / Care / Ritual).

Geographic Strategy

Anchor Base: France (craftsmanship, premium legitimacy, operational HQ).

Phase 1: West Africa deep consolidation (Senegal, Togo, Côte d'Ivoire, Benin).

Phase 2: Abidjan flagship as a regional driver, plus opportunistic expansion (Nigeria, Rwanda, Morocco).

Phase 3: Middle East (GCC) and East Asia (Singapore, Japan) scale-up.
Vision 2028: Cultural luxury leader across 3 continents.

Part III — Untapped Omnichannel Potential

Bridging Physical Experience With Digital Scale

RETBAA

Current Gap & Behavior

Digital sales account for <5% of total revenue, revealing a massive, unexploited growth avenue for the brand.

High-ticket purchases remain highly tactile. Affluent consumers strongly desire to see, test, and feel products before committing.

Strategic Response

Building an owned retail network for a 360° sensory experience, anchored by an Abidjan flagship with Paris pop-ups and a Dakar showroom.

Upgrading our digital stack to e-commerce 2.0, integrating live selling and advanced CRM/clienteling capabilities.

Targets & Forward Link

Elevating our digital revenue share to 15–20% by 2028, perfectly complementing physical expansion.

Targeting 20–30% in-store conversion, >30% repeat purchase rate, and an exceptional NPS of 70+.

These strategic levers feed directly into our upcoming Part II financial projections for 2026–2028.

Geographic Expansion Logic

The Strategic Rationale Behind Our Multi-Hub Deployment

RETBAA

The Rationale: Mitigating Risk & Capturing Global Growth

Geographic diversification is a foundational imperative of our 2026–2028 roadmap, intentionally designed to neutralize operational risks from mono-market dependency. By strategically seizing multi-hub opportunities in Francophone Africa, opening selective international markets, and reinforcing our French footprint, we orchestrate a profound structural transition.

Phase 2 Expansion Rationale

Leveraging our Abidjan flagship, Phase 2 targets key strategic hubs: Nigeria captures the largest luxury-consuming middle class, while Rwanda offers a stable entry into East Africa. Morocco bridges European clientele via luxury tourism, and Benin provides immediate cross-border operational synergies with Côte d'Ivoire.

Multi-Hub Strategy & Risk Mitigation

To unlock scale while mitigating cross-border risks, we deploy a strict defense matrix. We ensure Cultural Adaptation via local curators and contain capital exposure through an asset-light Franchising Model. Operations are secured via Strategic Partnerships with local institutions and tier-1 regulatory advisors.

Roadmap Execution Logic

Phasing Rationale, Key Assumptions & Risk Mitigation

RETBAA

Phasing Rationale: The Logic Behind Our 3-Year Trajectory

The 2026–2028 roadmap is meticulously structured to balance rapid scale with risk control. Phase 1, Foundation (2026), focuses on securing cash flow by consolidating our highly profitable West African core and launching the Abidjan flagship. This robust base funds Phase 2, Acceleration (2027), where we actively expand our regional footprint (Nigeria, Rwanda) and scale our B2B/B2G conversion engine. Finally, Phase 3, Consolidation (2028), leverages our multi-hub ecosystem to achieve structural margin optimization and pan-African leadership, perfectly positioning RETBAA for global expansion.

Key Assumptions

- Conversion Rate: 40-50% pipeline conversion is highly realizable due to advanced-stage enterprise opportunities.
- Retail Catalyst: Abidjan flagship opening (Q4 2026) acts as a major boost for brand visibility, supported by Retbaa Moments activations in key West African locations: Cotonou (via Sofitel Cotonou), Dakar (leveraging JOJ momentum), Lomé, and Accra.
- Capital Impact: Capital deployed in early 2026 acts as a strategic lever to multiply impact through B2B/B2G pipeline conversion and geographical expansion.
- Margin Stability: Validated asset-light model structurally ensures 20%+ EBITDA margins are sustained during rapid top-line scaling.

Risk Mitigation & Levers

- Commercial Risks: Potential pipeline delays are structurally mitigated through intentional revenue diversification across B2B, B2C, and B2G segments.
- Geographic Risks: Single-market dependency is systematically addressed via the Phase 2 multi-hub regional deployment strategy.
- Execution Levers: Success relies on a highly experienced core team, a proven SASU operational template, and active tier-1 strategic partnerships.
- Supply Chain: Leveraging flexible, premium-grade local sourcing to bypass global logistics bottlenecks and control input costs.

Priority Growth Levers for 2026

Ops & CRM Tools

Driving commercial velocity through strict asset-light optimization and the integration of robust operational tooling. Note: Dubai remains strictly as an opportunistic expansion corridor under watch.

Dubai & Middle East — Strategic Adaptation

From planned activation to opportunistic market approach

RETBAA

01	Initial Intent	Dubai was initially considered as an early premium visibility and retail activation point, with the Middle East seen as a strong long-term legitimacy and demand market for Retbaa's sensory luxury proposition.
02	Context Shift	Regional geopolitical and operating conditions led Retbaa to postpone direct activation in Dubai in order to preserve execution discipline, reduce exposure, and prioritize more immediately actionable markets.
03	Strategic Response	Retbaa reallocated its short-term focus toward West Africa consolidation, selective France retail activation, and higher-conviction B2B/B2G conversion, while maintaining Dubai / GCC as a strategic option under active watch.
04	Current Positioning	The Middle East is no longer treated as a core 2026 growth driver, but as an opportunistic expansion corridor to be activated when timing, context, and market conditions become more favorable.

Strategic agility: Retbaa preserved optionality while protecting short-term execution quality.

Fundraising & Execution

Capital deployment strategy, use of funds, and commercial pipeline execution.

Introduction

From Strategic Roadmap to Capital Deployment

RETBAA

Why Fundraising Now?

Following a highly successful operational validation in 2025, Retbaa has reached a critical inflection point. We enter 2026 with a robust, high-value B2B/B2G pipeline ready for conversion.

2025 Validation Mature Pipeline

2026 Momentum

To fully capitalize on these strategic opportunities—most notably the highly anticipated launch of our Abidjan flagship in Q4 2026—we require immediate commercial and marketing acceleration to transition seamlessly from validation to velocity.

Capital Allocation Logic

The targeted capital injection is precision-engineered to act as a strategic growth multiplier, bypassing basic working capital needs to prioritize our highest-yield operational levers.

€240K	€1.2M
Remaining to Close	Total Target (Incl. Grants)

Crucially, this final €240k close serves as a strategic leverage to unlock €600k in non-dilutive grants via institutions like BPI France, CCI Paris Île-de-France, and Proparco.

Additionnal 60K needed will be shareholder loan

Funds are strictly allocated across four growth pillars: Business Development, Marketing, Geographic Expansion, and Structure & Ops.

Expected Impact & ROI

This deployment fundamentally elevates Retbaa's financial profile and market footprint, delivering highly measurable, high-margin outcomes across all operating regions.

30%+	4+
Target EBITDA (Up from 23%)	Active Countries Multi-Hub Presence

This deployed capital acts as an immediate catalyst. It directly accelerates the conversion of our B2B/B2G pipeline from €800k to €1.5M+, drives our retail multi-hub deployment across 4+ countries, and ensures the structural professionalization of our operations.

> Catalyzing our pipeline conversion from €800k to €1.5M+, while securing stronger Pan-African brand awareness.

The Cultural Luxury Paradigm

Market Context & Macro Trends Driving Sector Consolidation

RETBAA

Global Luxury Market

€1.44 Trillion

Global Market Value (Bain, 2025)

Despite macroeconomic headwinds, the global luxury sector demonstrates profound resilience, projected to maintain a steady CAGR of 3% to 7% through the decade.

A structural shift is occurring: traditional hyper-luxury is decelerating, while Accessible Luxury and digitally native DTC models are rapidly capturing market share, driven by new generations of affluent consumers seeking meaning over pure status.

- Resilient CAGR
- DTC Expansion
- Accessible Luxury

Cultural & Heritage Boom

The defining trend of the current cycle is the "Cultural Luxury" paradigm. Consumers demand authentic heritage, storytelling, and craftsmanship.

In response, major conglomerates (LVMH, Kering, L'Oréal) are aggressively executing M&A strategies to acquire independent, culture-driven brands at premium multiples.

Byredo
Acquired by Puig for €1B (2022)

Polène

The African Opportunity

Africa is the ultimate untapped frontier for luxury. A rapidly expanding continental middle class and highly affluent diaspora create a unique dual-engine growth opportunity.

- Emerging Middle Class
- Affluent Diaspora

Strategic Alignment

Retbaa's "Africa-to-World" positioning aligns well with the global conglomerate appetite for authentic cultural narratives, occupying a highly lucrative, undefended white space in the market.

PHASED DEPLOYMENT STRATEGY — EXECUTION LOGIC

Why This Temporal Allocation Maximizes Impact & Minimizes Risk

RETBAA

Early Deployment Strategy (H1 Focus)

40%

Of Deployed Growth Capital

Early deployment is intended to build momentum, execution readiness, and commercial activation capacity.

The primary objective is to convert the existing €800k B2B/B2G pipeline into tangible revenues and launch the RETBAA Majliss pilots to validate the offline retail model.

This early demonstration establishes our market credibility before the H2 scale-up phase, thereby reassuring our investors and strategic partners.

Progressive Scaling Logic

40% → 35% → 25%

Decreasing Allocation Curve

This descending allocation curve (40% → 35% → 25%) aligns with our operational learning curve and our gradual ramp-up in overall efficiency.

The logic of "capital-efficient scaling" favors strategic upfront investment, when marginal ROI is optimal, to build a robust and resilient revenue base.

As this revenue base consolidates, operations progressively self-fund our growth, actively mitigating execution risks and reducing the need for external capital.

Business Plan Alignment

€500k → €1.0M → €1.5M

Revenue Milestones

Each deployment phase is linked to our revenue targets: the H1 deployment builds the foundational Q1-Q2 revenue generation.

The H2 deployment supports the €500k objective for 2026. The 2027-28 investment then scales growth to €1.0M (2027) and €1.5M (2028).

This progression is accompanied by a continuous improvement in EBITDA margin (towards >30%), synchronized with our multi-hub expansion and franchise model.

Part I — Key Takeaways

Strategic Insights on Growth Trajectory & Execution Roadmap

RETBAA

Strategic Roadmap & Phasing

Our structured 2026-2028 roadmap provides a clear path from Phase 1 Foundation (€500k) to Phase 2 Scale (€1.0M) and ultimately Phase 3 Maturity (€1.5M).

We deploy a phased execution logic in which capital is weighted toward early readiness, while revenue ramp-up remains progressive across 2026, with limited Q1 contribution and peak monetization in Q4.

This direct synchronization between capital deployment and commercial ramp-up transforms our execution velocity into a critical competitive advantage, ensuring milestones are met rapidly.

Profitability Trajectory

We project an exceptional EBITDA progression: from 23% in 2025 to 25% (2026), 28% (2027), and reaching >30% by 2028, alongside a Net Profit margin scaling from 18% to >25%.

This profitability is underpinned by a robust 84% revenue CAGR (2025-2028), an incredibly rare performance metric for a luxury sector startup that has already achieved profitability in Year 1.

Our priority matrix for H1 (rapid deployment levers) and H2 (automation, data infrastructure) optimizes margins while scaling, proving the deep resilience of our asset-light operating model.

Geographic Expansion Logic

Our geographic diversification strategy smoothly transitions the revenue mix from Africa 85% / Europe 15% in 2025 toward a balanced Africa 50% / France 30% / Selective International 20% split by 2028.

Phase 2 multi-hub expansion across 4+ countries (Nigeria, Rwanda, Morocco, Benin) actively reduces concentration risk while significantly amplifying overall market potential.

Driven by local cultural adaptation, strategic partnerships, and a scalable 2027-28 franchising playbook, our unique Africa-to-World positioning creates a defensible premium against Western pure-players.

Part II — Key Takeaways

Strategic Insights on Fundraising, Valuation & Capital Deployment

RETBAA

Fundraising Strategy

The €1.2M funding structure combines a €600k equity round and €600k in non-dilutive financing. With €360k already mobilized, the final €240k completes the equity round and supports deployment of the broader funding structure.

This non-dilutive model actively protects founders and shareholders while securing backing from strategic institutional partners (BPI France, CCI Paris, Proparco) to validate market credibility.

A rapid deployment window of ≤12 months maximizes our 2026-2028 momentum, transforming seed fundraising into a strategic operational lever without incurring excessive dilution.

Valuation Rationale

The €2.4M pre-money valuation (12.5× 2025 revenue of €191k) sits in the upper range of seed DTC/luxury, supported by validated 2025 traction, including a profitable Year 1 and strong 23% EBITDA.

This positioning is supported by a projected 84% CAGR (2025-2028) and a multi-hub expansion roadmap across 4+ countries that significantly amplifies our geographic potential.

Sector benchmarks (BDK Parfums, Byredo, Polène) anchor these multiples, while our unique Cultural Luxury Africa-to-World positioning supports a differentiated premium positioning against Western pure-players.

Capital Deployment Logic

The €1.2M allocation is strategically optimized: 70% for revenue generation concentrates firepower on converting our €800k B2B/B2G pipeline, while 20% prepares multi-hub geographic scaling.

Our phased capital deployment (40% early execution focus, 35% H2 scaling, 25% 2027–2028 consolidation) is designed to support operational readiness and progressive commercial ramp-up.

This sequencing is designed to support early execution capacity, progressive revenue ramp-up from €500k in 2026 to €1.5M in 2028, and a path toward >30% EBITDA.

Next Steps — 2026 Execution Plan

Execution Plan for 2026 Growth Acceleration

RETBAA

01 Finalize Phase 1 Fundraising

Secure remaining commitments for Phase 1 (remaining balance €240k) to fuel marketing, enterprise sales acceleration, and commercial execution capacity.

02 Convert Advanced Pipeline

Close priority B2B/B2G opportunities and deepen the Africa-led commercial base through RETBAA SASU and RETBAA France.

03 Deploy Selective Retail Strategy

Launch RETBAA branded pop-up activations and engage in selective France retail discussions to build legitimacy, visibility, and lead generation.

04 Scale Governance & Operating Cadence

Strengthen execution discipline and scale the asset-light model while rigorously preserving operating margin quality.
